PRINCETON ALUMNI CHAIR CONSIDERED. The Alumni Office is considering the possibility of offering for sale to students and faculty an attractive and comfortable wooden arm chair made by a very fine New England chair manufacturer. This "Alumni Chair", made of northern birch, is painted black, trimmed in gold; with the seal of the Seminary in gold on the middle of the back. For chairs of this sort the price is right! The chair costs $33.00 with black arms and $34.00 with natural cherry wood arms. Chairs would be shipped to buyers express collect which would amount to about $7.00 in Princeton. Persons interested in such an item may inquire of Mr. Byers in Room 16 of the Administration Building.

READING ROOM HOURS FOR READING AND EXAM PERIOD. The Education Reading Room will be open during the regular afternoon hours for checking out materials during the reading period January 3 to 16. It will be closed during the evening and Saturday hours. Harris, from the General Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work, Presbyterian Church in the U.S., will be on campus to interview students from this denomination on Monday afternoon and evening, January 24, and Tuesday morning, January 25. He is anxious to meet not only seniors but middlers and juniors as well. Kindly come to Room 16 of the Administration Building and sign up for an appointment. Spread this information to other members of the Presbyterian Church U.S. so that all will know about it.

STILL SITTING ON THE FLOOR? Mr. Byers': office, Room 16 Administration Building, is still interested in prospective buyers for a proposed Princeton Alumni Chair. To be built in the tradition of college chairs of other eastern colleges and graduate schools, this sturdy and handsome piece of furniture will be made available for the first time if student and alumni interest is sufficient. It is better than the floor, and judging from a rough survey of Seminary furniture, a much needed corrective for P.S.T.F.F. (Princeton Seminary Theological Fanny Fatigue).

Apply Now for Next Year's Financial Aid

Students who plan to apply for financial aid for the 1966-67 academic year may pick up application forms beginning Monday, February 7, in the office of James E. Andrews, Assistant to the President.

The completed "Student Financial Inventory" may be returned to the same office at any time after that date, and interviews will be scheduled for March and April. It will be necessary for each applicant to complete the financial inventory before scheduling an interview.

Students are encouraged to begin the application process even where summer plans and next year's field education or employment schedules are not complete. Students who fail to apply during the current semester will be presumed to be self-supporting. It will be difficult to apply in the fall.

Please remember that the Seminary does not, in any case, pledge a set amount of money to any student. The intention of the financial aid program is to subsidize a modest budget plan for those students who require aid. All financial assistance programs will be reviewed in the fall to adjust inequities, and adjustments can work both up and down.

Dimension Articles Wanted

Student articles for the first issue of a revised Dimension, the Seminary's student theological journal, are now being solicited. The journal, to be published in the early spring, is an experimental issue to begin a regular theological publication of Princeton student papers.

Faculty members have been asked to recommend especially good papers for publication, but students should feel free to submit their own work independently of faculty recommendation if they so desire. Manuscripts should be given to the Director of Student Publications, J. Randall Nichols, 313 Hodge Hall (924-7242) as soon as possible.

Inter-Seminary Group to Meet at Drew

The Inter-Seminary Committee's first meeting of the second semester will be held Saturday, February 5, at Drew Seminary. A joint endeavor with other seminaries in this area, the meeting will include students from Biblical, Capuchin Fathers, General, Immaculate Conception, Maryknoll, Missionary Orientation Center, Princeton, St. Joseph, Union, and Drew seminaries. It will last from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m.

This is to be an informal meeting so that students from the various seminaries can become better acquainted. All students are encouraged to take advantage of this time for meeting fellow students from Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox theological schools. For further information see Betty Drake or Paul Mickey. Those wishing to make the Drew trip should indicate their intentions on the Campus Center Bulletin Board.

Communion Service Changed

The Communion Service originally scheduled for Sunday, February 6, will not be held on that date. The service, which is the celebration of the sacrament marking the opening of the second semester, has been re-scheduled for Tuesday, February 22, at 7:45 p.m. in Miller Chapel. The preacher for the Communion Service will be visiting scholar Donald Mathers. President James I. McCord will conduct worship and share in the administration of the sacrament.

Methodist Bishop to Interview

Methodist students will be interested to know that Bishop James S. Thomas from the Iowa Area will be on campus Wednesday, February 9, from 10:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Students wishing to meet with him or with District Superintendents Miller and Latta should come to Room 16 of the Administration Building and make appointments for interviews.

Otto Weber to Give Warfield Lectures

Professor Otto Weber of the University of Göttingen will deliver the 1966 Annie Kinkead Warfield Lectures at Princeton Seminary, February 7 to 11.

Speaking each evening, Monday through Friday, at 7:45 p.m., and also at 1:20 p.m. on Tuesday, February 8, Weber will discuss "Calvin's Doctrine of the Word." The lectures, which are open to the public, will be delivered in Miller Chapel.

A native of Cologne, Germany, Professor Weber went to his present post as Professor of Reformed Theology on the Göttingen faculty in 1934. His best-known works include two which have appeared in English, Karl Barth's Church Dogmatics, and Ground Plan of the Bible.

Job Corpsmen to Visit Princeton

Thirty young men from the Camp Kilmer Job Corps training center will spend the weekend of February 18-20 in Princeton. In order to provide these men, ages 16-21, with an opportunity to share a weekend of normal homelife with a family in Princeton, the local chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is seeking hosts who will offer hospitality to a member of the group.

Those who desire to participate in the project should be in touch with Mr. Greg Reinhardt at 882-3750, or Mr. Doug Bosomworth at 448-4860. The visitors will represent a variety of social and ethnic backgrounds.

The Wineskin Bulges Back!

After a lengthy vacation from the rigors of publishing a student news sheet (and a disastrous losing battle with the mimeograph machine), The Wineskin staff is back on the job. While this humble publication is not famous for its liquid prose (no comment on other liquid items), it is the only regular calendar of events for Princeton Theological Seminary. If you have announcements or items of interest, they should be submitted to the office of Student Publications, 111 Hodge Hall, or to the switchboard operator in the Administration Building. Deadline for articles is the Friday before date of the issue in which they are to appear. The staff will make every effort to break its bacchanalian back for better wine.

Vocations Conference Coming

On March 4 to 6 Princeton will host its 8th Annual Conference on Church Vocations. The weekend will find 250 college juniors and seniors from across the country visiting the Seminary campus. In years past the Vocations Conference participants have mentioned their associations with Seminary students as among the most valuable experiences of the weekend. The collegian's interest in and potential for some form of ministry make him especially interested in those who have already begun their professional education.

The Conference leadership hopes that every Seminary student who can will plan to be on campus as much as possible the weekend of March 4 to 6. Those who are willing and have room will be asked to house one or more Conference participants. Later in the month a member of the Conference staff will visit each room in order to arrange lodging for the college visitors.

Students interested in assisting in the administration of the Conference are asked to contact Mr. Andrews' office at their earliest convenience.

Maryknoll Sister Invites Seminary Students

Sister Mary Mitchell of the Maryknoll Motherhouse, Maryknoll Seminary, has invited students from Princeton Seminary to spend the afternoon of Wednesday, February 16, at Maryknoll. Students will become better acquainted with the training and education of a Maryknoll Sister.

The Princeton delegation will leave the Seminary at the conclusion of 12:30 classes Wednesday, spending the afternoon at Maryknoll. They will be guests of the Roman Catholic seminary for dinner, and will return to Princeton after the dinner hour. Interested students should register for the trip on the list posted in the Campus Center foyer.

Senior Class Meets Pensions Representative

The Reverend Harry R. Roach, Eastern District Representative for the Board of Pensions, U.P.U.S.A., will meet with the senior class on Wednesday afternoon, February 16, at 2:00 p.m. in Room 5, Stuart Hall, to discuss the work of the Board of Pensions.

This meeting is also open to any junior, middler, or graduate student who is currently in a salaried relationship with a church and who could, on that basis, be a member of the pension plan. Seniors or other students having special questions about the pension plan can also meet with Mr. Roach individually on February 16. Appointments should be made in Room 16 of the Administration Building.

Mardi Gras Revelry

On Monday, February 21, at 6:00 p.m., the annual Mardi gras festival will be celebrated in the Campus Center. Whip up a costume, scotch tape one together or wear a box, but don't miss it! Everyone is invited to help commemorate this fete. There will be a special menu of steamboat roast with all the trimmings and some gala entertainment. It's a carnival, it's a feast, it's Shrove Tuesday on Monday!

Empty Shelves Need Filling

From time to time Princeton students have heard about the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Korea, where Samuel Moffett, uncle of Princeton's Blair Moffett, has been teaching. The latest word is of dramatic progress. The Korean seminary has called its first full-time woman professor, has just completed its chapel, and has readied a library with stacks for 70,000 volumes.

Those stacks now contain 6,000 books, leaving 63,000 to go. The empty shelves of the seminary invite each Princeton student to become a part of the growth of a sister institution through the donation of books. Princeton Seminary's Stewardship Commission will hold a book drive during February 14 to 18, with boxes provided in strategic locations. Basic books are preferred. The Stewardship Commission is chaired by Gerald Stone, who will provide more information on request.

P.T.S. Scholars Win Prizes

Mr. Ralph Lazzaro of Harvard Divinity School, Secretary of the Christian Research Foundation, has announced that among the recipients of prizes on the 1965 competition are two Princeton Seminary students. In the competition open to doctoral candidates the first prize of $500 was awarded to John Mathews (currently teaching at Hanover College) for his dissertation on Hospitality in the New Testament Church. A prize of $250 was awarded to John L. Kipp for his seminar paper on The Text of Matthew Used in Eusebius' "Demonstratio Evangelica."

The awards given by the Christian Research Foundation are intended to promote research in the field of New Testament and Early Church History, and competition is open to students of any country who submit papers written in English.

Both Princeton winners studied under the direction of Professor Bruce M. Metzger.

Kingdon to Address Koinonia Thursday

At its first 1966 meeting, to be held in Stevenson Lounge at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 24, Koinonia will have as guest speaker Mr. Robert Kingdon, presently with the Institute for Advanced Study, but soon to take up duties as Chairman of the Department of History at the University of Wisconsin.

The distinguished historian has done work on the Reformation period and is an authority on conditions in Geneva in Calvin's day, as well as on the spread of Calvinism in France. In his Koinonia address Mr. Kingdon will deal critically with the increasing tendency among church historians to neglect the institutional church in their study of church history.

A comment on this topic and on Mr. Kingdon's viewpoint will be offered by Seminary Professor David Willis, who is expected to defend the non-institutional approach to church history. As is customary there will be opportunity for discussion.

Koinonia is the Seminary's fellowship of doctoral students, and its meetings are restricted to faculty members and doctoral candidates. Others may attend by special invitation. The address will be preceded by a 6:00 p.m. banquet in the small dining room of the Campus Center.

Jan Hus Materials in Library Display

Speer Library is currently featuring an exhibit of interesting materials relating to the life of Jan Hus, Bohemian martyr (d. 1415) whose life and teaching were influential in the Reformation period.

Several of the displayed items are on loan from the Scheide Collection. Also displayed is a Bohemian Bible given to the Seminary recently by the Reverend C. Marshall Muir, pastor of the Munn Avenue Presbyterian Church in East Orange, New Jersey.

Student Interracial Ministry Opportunities

The Student Interracial Ministry is an inter-seminary movement organized, planned, developed, and promoted by seminary students. It seeks to provide a variety of interracial service and training experiences all over the United States, and both summer and intern year opportunities are now available.

Openings include inner-city projects, suburban and urban church placements, the Southwestern Georgia Project, the Northern Urban Project, the Atlanta College Intern Project, and the Delta Ministry. Detailed information is available from the Office of Field Education. Notices are placed on the bulletin board outside the office. Stipends for the various summer projects are $300 plus room and board for single students, and $450 plus room and board for married couples. Intern year remuneration is $1,300 plus room and board for single students, and $1,950 plus room and board for married couples.

Generals in September, 1966

Following is the text of an official notice from the Office of the Registrar, currently posted in Stuart Hall:

"At its regular meeting on February 9, 1966, the Faculty approved a recommendation that an administration of the General Examinations be scheduled for September, 1966. This administration will be in addition to the two for which provision is made in the Academic Regulations. The schedule of September examinations will be posted [and printed in THE WINESKIN] within the next few weeks."

Placement Interview

The Reverend Robert J. Rodisch will be on campus February 23 and 24 to interview any students who have an interest in future service in the Synod of Missouri, U.P.U.S.A. Students need not be seniors currently seeking placement in order to interview. Appointments should be made in Room 16, Administration Building.

Drew O.T. Scholar to Lead Extended Chapel

On Wednesday, February 23, an extended chapel service will be led by Drew University Old Testament scholar Lawrence Edmund Toombs. The service will be held in Miller Chapel at the regular hour of 10:00 a.m.

Mr. Toombs is Professor of Old Testament in the Theological School at Drew University in Madison, New Jersey. Besides lecturing at Drew he has found time to head Bible study groups in various centers in New Jersey and New York, and is in demand as a preacher in a large number of churches.

For three years previous to joining the Drew faculty in 1953 Mr. Toombs was Professor of Old Testament Language and Literature at St. Stephen's College, a theological seminary of the United Church of Canada, in Edmonton, Alberta. One of his major interests has been Bible study, and out of his association with young people has developed a course of Bible study entitled A Year With the Bible.

In December, 1955, the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem awarded Mr. Toombs a fellowship to engage in archaeological study in the Holy Land. He also spent a year on sabbatical leave in London, conducting research for a critical commentary on the Psalms.

His books include The Threshold of Christianity, Nation Making, The Old Testament in Christian Preaching, A Year with the Bible, and God's People Among the Nations. He has had numerous articles published in religious and scholarly journals.

Mr. Toombs was the guest author of the WOR radio program "What Do You Mean?" in April, 1964. The program was one of a series produced by the radio station in cooperation with the Protestant Council of the City of New York, and the New Jersey Council of Churches.

He holds degrees from Acadia University, Pine Hill Divinity Hall in Nova Scotia, and Drew University where he received his Ph.D. in 1951.

Final Exam Regulations

Appearing on the opposite page is the schedule for second semester final examinations. Students are reminded that the appearance of a scheduled examination does not mean a final will be given in the course. Individual professors should be consulted to determine whether the scheduled final examination time will be utilized. Academic regulations provide that all course work not due on or before May 4 (the last day of classes) will be due on (but not before) the date provided for the examination.

All examinations are to be taken in the rooms indicated, or in the typing room, unless the instructor explicitly permits the examination to be written outside of the building.

In case of conflict between examinations, the student shall ascertain from the Director of Student Studies which examination shall be taken at the conflict period on May 24. A semester paper and an examination, or two semester papers, scheduled for the same time will not produce a conflict under this regulation.

Petitions for the postponement of final examinations, or for extensions of time beyond established deadlines for submitting required work, must be filed according to the Academic Regulations. The relevant provisions are posted on the permanent official notice board in Stuart Hall, or students may obtain a copy of the Academic Regulations from the Director of Student Studies.

It Has Been Moved . . .

The Student Council at its meeting of February 8 conducted the following business and discussion.

President James L. Carter read a letter from Rutgers University, offering to present the Seminary seal formerly on display in the New Jersey pavilion at the New York World's Fair. The Student Council accepted the gift.

The problem of the breakfast hour was discussed, and further action is being sought through appropriate administrative channels.

The Council noted the Stewardship Commission's book drive for the seminary library in Seoul, Korea.

David W. Wills, chairman of the Academic Commission, announced the distribution of a questionnaire to the student body in order to evaluate certain areas of academic life.

The meeting was adjourned by President Carter. Proceedings prepared by Secretary Elinor Kirkland.

COEMAR Interviews

Miss Margaret Flory, Secretary for Student World Relations, Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations, U.P. U.S.A., will be on campus March 7 and 8. She will make a presentation regarding Frontier Internships and four overseas study-work grants at a supper meeting in the small dining room at 6:00 p.m., Monday, March 7. Students may interview later that evening and Tuesday morning, March 8.

Reservations to attend the dinner meeting (regular boarders 25¢, nonboarders $1.75) and interview appointments are necessary, and can be made at the Field Education Office.

Urban Leader to Speak

The Reverend George Morey, recognized leader in urban church work and recent graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, will meet with students interested in the urban ministry at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, March 4, in the small dining room. The meeting is sponsored by the Ecumenics and Missions Commission of the Student Council.

Inter-Seminary Reminder

The March 5 trip to New York Theological Seminary will leave the Campus Center at 3:00 p.m. Those interested should register for the trip in the Campus Center foyer. An afternoon and evening of lectures, discussion, dinner, worship, and conversation relating to the topic "Ethic: Protestant and Catholic" is planned.

Robes at a Discount

The Bentley and Simon robe showing will be held on Wednesday, March 9, in Stevenson Lounge between 10:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. On that day a 5 per cent discount will be given on all orders placed.

Internship Openings

The Field Education Office announces a wide variety of internships available for the academic year 1966-67. Among the openings: the Larchmont Avenue Church in Larchmont, New York, where students work as part of a team ministry under the supervision of James G. Emerson; the First Methodist Church of Germantown, Pennsylvania, where a coffee house is an opportunity for direct street work ministry in an integrated community; and First Presbyterian Church of Colorado Springs, Colorado, which offers a significant opportunity for work with college students.

Other, less conventional, positions are to be had with the Office of Economic Opportunity or the Christian Ministry in Leisure-Recreation. Interested students should discuss these and other possibilities with Jerome Leksa in the Field Education Office. Since most placements are made during early March, students are urged to make their plans soon.

Wives' "Battle of the Bulge" Spreads

To extend the "Battle of the Bulge" one of the Wives' Fellowship circles will fight on with a "Sweets Swap" on March 10 in the foyer of the Campus Center. Since married students frequently have the opportunity to indulge in the bounty from their wives' kitchens, it seems only just to the wives that some of the goodies be shared with single seminary students who are without wife and/or kitchen.

Immediately following dinner on March 10 all bulge-fighters (and losers) are invited to swap any amount of money for any sweet on the table (edible sweet, that is). The money will be directed to a fund established to supplement the incomes of those who will participate in the Student Interracial Ministry projects this summer.

Oxford Theologian Marsh to Lecture

John Marsh, Principal and Professor of Theology in Mansfield College, Oxford, will preach and lecture in Princeton next week. Mr. Marsh will conduct the morning worship in the Princeton University Chapel on Sunday, March 13, and will address the Seminary at 1:45 p.m. on Monday, March 14. His subject in speaking to the Seminary will be "The Present Status of Theological Education at Oxford and in England."

Mr. Marsh is widely published, having written among other things The Fulness of Time and A Year with the Bible. He has translated Ethelbert Stauffer's New Testament Theology, and Rudolph Bultmann's History of the Synoptic Tradition.

Noon Lenten Services

The First Presbyterian Church of Princeton has invited the students and faculty of the Seminary to its weekly lenten services, held each Thursday through Holy Week. The services are being held in the First Church Chapel, from 12:10 to 12:30 p.m., with luncheon following for 65¢ if desired. The March 10 service will be conducted by the Reverend Luther Kriefall, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah in Princeton.

National Parks Representative to Interview

Mr. Warren Ost, representing the National Parks Ministry, will be on campus March 3 and 4 to talk with interested students about summer service in one of our national parks. There will be a dinner meeting on Thursday, March 3, at 6:00 p.m. in the small dining room. On Friday, March 4, Mr. Ost will interview all interested students. Appointments may be made in the Field Education Office.

Evangelistic Fellowship Spring Conferences

"Where in the World is Faith at Work?" is the theme of the Princeton Seminary Evangelistic Fellowship Spring Conferences for senior high youth, Saturday, April 16, and Saturday, April 30.

Two former presidents of the Fellowship, Ronald Richardson and Howard Friend, will give the keynote addresses. Richardson, a Senior at the Seminary, will speak April 16. Friend, a 1965 graduate of the Seminary and currently pastor of Montauk Community Church in Montauk, New York, will speak April 30.

The purpose of the conference is to bring high school young people to the campus for a day and to challenge them in some aspect of the Christian faith. Last year about 600 students attended the two conferences.

The conferences are open to churches visited in the Fellowship's team ministry program and to churches served by Princeton students in field education. Interested students may obtain registration forms from the Fellowship officers, Richard Grear, Vernon Towne and Stewart Ellis.

Fall Field Education Interviews Begin

On Monday, March 14, pastor-supervisors will begin coming to the campus to interview students for Fall field education positions. The Office of Field Education invites students to utilize the following procedure in arranging for interviews:

(1) Consult the bulletin board outside the Office of Field Education, where brief descriptions of job openings are being posted.

(2) When an interesting job is seen, note the number and obtain a job description from the secretary in the Office of Field Education (such descriptions may not be removed from the office).

(3) If a student is interested in interviewing for a particular job, he should confirm arrangements as to time and place with the secretary.

Although additional placements will be made in the Fall, students are encouraged to interview now. Regulations covering the Seminary's field education requirements can be found in the current catalogue on pp. 115 ff.

Marsh Lecture Monday

As announced in last week's WINESKIN, Principal John Marsh of Mansfield College, Oxford, will lecture on Monday, March 14, on the subject "The Present Status of Theological Education at Oxford and in England." The lecture, to which all members of the Seminary are invited, will be held at 1:30 p.m. in Miller Chapel. Principal Marsh will also preach at the Princeton University Chapel on Sunday, March 13, at the regular 11:00 a.m. worship service.

Wolf at Your Door

Mrs. M. Richard Shaull has asked that the student who purchased furniture from her in the Fall please get in touch with her about payment. The furniture was sold in behalf of former Seminary professor James Barr. Payment may be put in the Seminary mailbox of Professor Shaull.

Well known New Testament scholar Ernst Käsemann will deliver three lectures this week on "The Interpretation of Paul." The German scholar is currently spending a year at San Francisco Theological Seminary, on leave from his post as Professor of New Testament at the University of Tübingen, Germany.

The Meeting will be held in the main lounge of the Campus Center. Students are encouraged to come with comments or questions pertaining to any area of seminary life which is of concern to them.

Faculty to Support Servant Image

On March 22 the regular dinner hour of 6:00 p.m. will find regular dining hall waiters displaced as the Princeton Seminary faculty delivers (hopefully) food to hungry students. The faculty table-waiting escapade is becoming a regular and cherished Seminary institution. The waiters will be festooned in appropriate costumes, so as to be distinguishable from students and guests, all of whom are cordially invited. The cost (of admission and dinner) for non-boarders will be $2.00.

Many will remember last year's faculty waiting, when students were allowed to see hitherto unsuspected facets of professorial personality. Students who wish to address comments to the faculty waiters should allow for breakage.

• • •

Women to the Gym!

The Seminary gymnasium has been thrown open to women every Monday night at 7:30 p.m. Wives, students, and faculty spouses are all welcome. For the past two weeks a number of women have gone for games and exercise, and a good time is reported. Volleyball, basketball, weight lifting, and other forms of exercise are available. Men are requested to stay away from the gym, due no doubt to the possibility of injury or disillusionment.

• • •

Urban Project Luncheon

There will be a luncheon meeting on March 24 from 1:00 to 2:15 p.m. for students working in the Urban Project. The place will be announced at a later date. Mayor Arthur J. Holland of Trenton will speak on his role as a Christian layman in the social and political structures of Trenton. He will give his suggestions as to what the church may do to improve the effectiveness of its witness in these areas. Those planning to attend should sign on the sheet posted for this purpose in the Campus Center foyer.

Church and Society Planning

The Church and Society Committee is currently seeking interested students and/or suggestions for areas of activity during the next academic year. As an interest group of the Student Council, the Church and Society Committee is charged by the constitution with "seeking to arouse and direct the Seminary to apply the Gospel concretely through justice and reconciliation, by interpreting to the Seminary community where there are areas of need, so that the Seminary might better consider contemporary social problems in their relation to the Church and the Christian Life."

If you are interested in working with the Committee, or have suggestions for its activity, please contact James Laurie, 401 Hodge Hall, or any of the Committee members: John Potter, Roger Quillin, David Rogge, David Wills, Robert Hauser, Richard Killmer, George Renwick, Anthony Hite, William Kight, or Winton Smith.

Ruhl to Give Organ Recital Tuesday

Fort Wayne, Indiana, organist Jack Ruhl will play an organ concert at the Seminary at 7:45 p.m., Tuesday, March 22. He will perform in Miller Chapel on the same organ he dedicated December 2, 1964.

The program for the concert includes compositions by Nicolaus Bruhns, George Boehm, Johann Sebastian Bach, Sigfrid Karg-Elert, as well as an organ symphony by Leo Sowerby.

Mr. Ruhl has been staff organist at the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Wayne, Indiana, for fourteen years. He has served as pianist and organist for the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra, and as Dean of the Fort Wayne Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

A feature of many of Ruhl's recitals has been the introduction to recital audiences of many new and old compositions, as well as the complete performance of major works seldom heard in their entirety.

Erik Routley to Deliver Stone Lectures

The annual Stone Lectures will begin Monday, April 11, continuing through Thursday, April 14. They will be given this year by Mr. Erik Routley, well known author and former Oxford lecturer in the field of church music. Mr. Routley's series is entitled Words, Music, and the Church Today, and will deal with a wide range of topics, including the dangers of judging church music by the standards of the music-lover, the social factor in music making, and the parts which words and music can play in the true liturgical revival.

Mr. Routley was a teacher in Mansfield College, Oxford, from 1948 to 1959, serving as Tutor in Church History, Mackennal Lecturer in Church History, Director of Music, and Chaplain. He is currently minister of the Augustine-Bristo Congregational Church in Edinburgh.

He is widely published, with over twenty-five works on church music and other theological subjects. Among his more recent publications are Hymns Today and Tomorrow, and Is Jazz Music Christian? He is Editor of The Bulletin of the Hymn Society of Great Britain and Ireland.

The lectures will be given at 7:45 p.m., with an additional 2:00 p.m. lecture on April 12.

Free Friday Flick!

The Friday Nite Flick originally scheduled for April 15 has been changed from The Caine Mutiny as previously announced. Instead, through the efforts of Mr. William Brower, the movie Gone Are The Days will be shown, with no admission charge. Complimentary refreshments will be served following the movie.

Mr. Brower writes concerning Gone Are The Days, "The film is a broad satire of Negro-White relations on a cotton plantation in the deep south. The critics loved it but the public stayed away. In a matter of months it fell into oblivion except for an occasional showing on some college campus as a special event. Generally, though, it was as neglected by the movie-going public as it was heralded by the profession."

She is interested in talking with B.D. students who are thinking about doctoral work, counseling with them on their academic and financial plans. Student Council Elections to be Held on Monday

It's time for the polls again! Elections for president, vice-president, and treasurer of the Student Council for next year will be held Monday, April 25, from 8:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. The polls will be located in Stuart Hall until late afternoon, when they will be moved to the foyer of the Campus Center.

All Princeton Seminary students, including masters and doctoral students, are eligible to vote and are encouraged by the Student Council to do so. A complete list of candidates accompanies this issue of THE WINESKIN, and campaign statements of presidential candidates will be found in the current VIEWPOINT. Students are urged to read the statements, talk to the candidates, and cast their votes wisely on Monday.

Special Ballot Explanation

Because of the possibility of a run-off election, and the desire to include Monday and off-campus students in both primary and run-off balloting, a special ballot has been designed this year. Students will vote for both primary and run-off candidates on the same ballot, at the same time. On one part of the ballot all the run-off possibilities will be listed, and voters will cast their run-off part of the ballot as though a run-off were being held. Votes will be cast in each of the run-off possibilities, and counted in whichever one materializes. It will be necessary, therefore, to vote several times on each ballot (one ballot for each office). Sample ballots will be displayed at the polls to assist in this procedure.

Outgoing Student Council president James L. Carter asks each Seminary student to vote sometime during the day. Election results will be announced at dinner on Monday, April 25.

The second Gallahue Conference on World Religions will be held on the Seminary campus May 4 to 11, with some fifty leading scholars participating. The Conference theme is "Religions Pluralism and World Community." Seminary Professor Edward J. Jurji, Director of the Conference, has said that the meeting is one of the most representative assemblies of leaders of major religious bodies to be held in the United States in recent decades, and probably the first such gathering to be sponsored by a Christian theological school.

A Conference highlight will be a public session to be held the evening of the opening day (May 4, at 8:00 p.m.) in Miller Chapel. The speaker will be Mr. Huston Smith of M.I.T. All other Conference sessions are limited to the Conference participants.

The Computer is Watching

Chairman of the Academic Commission David W. Wills requests that all students who have not submitted their course critique questionnaires do so immediately. He has been at Old South Church since 1946.
